OUR MISSION

CCBF is a 501(c)(3) organization that pays bonds for individuals charged with crimes in Cook County, Illinois. By paying bond, CCBF restores the presumption of innocence before trial and enables recipients to remain free while fighting their cases. CCBF also engages in public education about the role of bond in the criminal legal system and advocates for the abolition of money bond.

IMPACT

CCBF has paid over $5 million in bonds in the last seven years to free over 750 people.

Our Revolving Fund team supports over 200 people with open cases. The team provides a range of ongoing support even after bond is paid, including court call reminders, mitigation support, and referrals for employment, housing, and education. They create community spaces for people experiencing pretrial incarceration as well as their loved ones, and ensure that each individual is equipped to fight their case through material support such as Lyft gift cards that provide transportation to court.

ADVOCACY

In January 2021, our collective efforts with the Coalition to End Money Bond and Illinois Network for Pretrial Justice led to the passage of the Pretrial Fairness Act. This historic legislation will abolish cash bail in Illinois in January 2023.

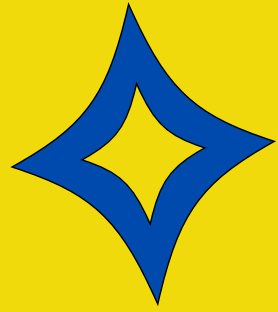

CCBF and our partners are committed to reducing the overall number of people in Cook County Jail and under pretrial supervision as part of a larger fight against mass incarceration.

Between January and September 2022, CCBF took part in 45 educational events, reaching over 1,100 people.

CELEBRATE WITH CCBF

CCBF hosts an annual party to thank our supporters, celebrate our victories, and raise funds for the following year. This year's event will take place on Saturday, November 19, 6-9pm at Hairpin Arts Center, 2810 N Milwaukee Ave in Chicago. We will be featuring live performances, a local DJ, and celebrating the implementation of the Pretrial Fairness Act, which will end money bond in Illinois in January 2023.

With your contribution, we can continue the fight for pretrial freedom in this incredibly historic moment for our city and our state. If you are able to donate to this event, please let me know at your earliest convenience. Note that CCBF is a non-profit organization and any donation to our organization may be tax deductible (Nonprofit Tax # 47-5015710). If you have any questions, please contact us at info@chicagobond.org.
